MEMPHIS (AP) — Seven union executives who have been in Memphis to direct the 25-day-old strike by 1,300 sanitation workers say they will appeal a contempt of court ruling placed against them Wednesday.

Meanwhile, 117 strikers and their sympathizers also were in court to answer disorderly conduct charges stemming from their mass arrest at city hall when they staged a sit-in against police orders.

They had refused to leave Tuesday evening after the council took no action on granting union dues paycheck deductions, the major point that blocks agreement by the city and the workers.

City Court Judge Ray Churchill suspended the charges against the demonstrators for 60 days and said, on their good behavior, the cases would be dismissed.

Most of the striking garbage men are Negroes and many of the people appearing before Churchill were either heads of civil rights or ministerial groups backing the sanitation walkout.

After two days of testimony, Chancellor Robert Hoffman found the seven leaders of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees in violation of his Feb. 24 injunction forbidding 22 union officers from encouraging the strike.

Hoffman handed out 10-day jail sentences and $50 fines, but allowed the union leaders to post a total of $3,500 in bonds and go free pending their appeal to the Tennessee Court of Appeals at Jackson.

Jerry Wurf, international president of the union, was among those found guilty of contempt. He posted a $1,000 bond.

Escapoe Held in Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dick Dean Crouch, 25, of Kearney, Mo., a Missouri escapee who was captured Tuesday near Salem, was being held in the Pulaski County Jail today on federal charges of flight to avoid prosecution.

Crouch was one of 25 prisoners who escaped Feb. 25 from the Clinton County, Mo., jail at Plattsburg. Freddie Lee Fudge, 33, of Kansas City, Kan., was captured Sunday near Salem. He also was being held at Little Rock.

The FBI said Crouch was being held on a charge of armed robbery and Fudge on a charge of molesting a minor at the time of his escape.

9 Marines Lost on Icy River

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — Nine enlisted men, lost in the icy waters of the Potomac River, were the objects early today of a massive ground-water-air search.

Eight Marines and a sailor stationed at the Quantico Marine Base were training in a 25-foot canvass canoe on the river Wednesday afternoon. The capsized canoe was spotted hours later.

Helicopters, boats and Marines on foot joined a massive search at daybreak after an all-night effort turned up no trace of the missing men.

The canoe, which the men were to paddle across the river and back near the base, was retrieved shortly after the search began about 6:30 p.m.

A base spokesman said four helicopters, two Coast Guard cutters, six Marine and Navy boats and four 12-man ground crews joined the search at daybreak.

Two Marine crash boats from Quantico, and three ground crews searched through the night.

The water temperature in the river was about 35 degrees Wednesday. One source estimated a man in top physical condition would be frozen within 15 minutes at such temperatures.

Deaf Mute Escapes Jail

BERRYVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Kenneth W. Crow, 20, of Eureka Springs, a deaf mute being held for parole violation, shoved past the jailer's wife when she opened the door of his cell to give him some water, and escaped on foot.

indicating with the isolated men who could be anywhere in the massive, winding caverns of the mine, perhaps as far away as one mile from the base of the shaft.

The searchers carried their own oxygen supply and wore masks. They found hints of deadly carbon monoxide present in the shaft, but one said it registered only "one-tenth of one percent."

"From what we hear, things may not be too bad," said William L. Meadows of Sturgis, Ky., head of one of two special six-man rescue teams flown in for the search.

The two men finally went down shortly before dawn after workmen overcame complications with the newly fabricated "man cage." The elevator affair snagged in the shaft some 300 feet down during a test drop.

Welders made modifications to the 5-by-5 platform which is gripped by a triangular framework of iron pipe. Edward Holmes and Dillard Holmes, on loan from Kentucky coal mine companies, began the slow, 40-minute journey downward.

The rescuers reported that once on the bottom they could feel some air movement, obviously from a fan. And, about the time they started up, they saw the "red glow" in the distant darkness.

Reportedly, Nugent Wants Tour of Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's son-in-law, Patrick J. Nugent—reportedly seeking a Southeast Asia tour—will report for active duty this month with a Washington area Air National Guard unit.

The Air Force said Wednesday it has approved Airman 1.C. Nugent's request to rejoin the 113th Tactical Fighter Wing, which he left to move to Austin, Tex., when he married the President's daughter, Luci.

The 113th, based at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., was among the units called to active duty Jan. 25 in the wake of North Korea's capture of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo.

Friends say Nugent, 24, has been "anxious to go to Southeast Asia or Vietnam for some time" and feels the chances are better with the 113th.

The President's other son-in-law, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb, is to report to Camp Pendleton, Calif., late this month en route to Vietnam.

Police said Lamb was a passenger in a car driven by Gary W. Johnson, 20, of Morrilton.

Officers said Johnson apparently lost control of the car and it overturned.

CLEAN OUR STREETS

Editor-the Star: The City of Hope each year spends XXX number of dollars on maintenance of City Streets. The City of Hope also recently purchased a street cleaning machine. Where is it? And is it used? If an effort is made to clean our streets then it is evident it is a poor one. Each morning the city businessmen sweep in front of their respective business. Each morning there seems to be more dirt, paper and debris. I realize that the City has a lot to do, but don't you think a little more could be done on the streets (cleaning of) in the downtown area.

Hope is growing, more people are coming to shop every day and it's a shame for them to have to wade through the dust, paper and debris in order to shop.

capabilities." He repeatedly refused to say what these objections were and Murton later said he wanted the board to make public its objections because they were "a little vague in my mind."

There has been considerable friction between Murton and Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller for several months and the issue reached a climax last Friday when Murton made a remark which Rockefeller apparently interpreted as criticism of the governor's numerous out-of-state trips during his 14 months in office.

Rockefeller had said no one in the administration knew Murton had gone to California to attend a conference but later was forced to retract that remark when he learned that Haley and the board were aware of Murton's trip.

When Murton returned to the state, he was asked about Rockefeller not knowing he was in California.

"Well, that's possible. I didn't know he was here," Murton quipped, causing a burst of laughter from the newsmen.

Murton had also said Rockefeller had made a commitment to name him commissioner of corrections and the governor issued a blistering Monday night denying that such a commitment had been made.

Rockefeller said he had "reluctantly" concluded that Murton's continuing association with the prison was not in the best interests of the state or the prison reform program.

Haley, who had said he agreed with some parts of the governor's letter, was asked if he agreed with that particular part.

"I am not going to comment on that part of the letter," Haley said.

Haley, who said Monday that the letter reflected his views exactly, also denied that Murton had been asked to resign either during the meeting or before the meeting when he met with Murton.

However, Murton said that prior to the meeting Haley indicated that a resignation was a "possible alternative."

Haley also indicated that he wanted Murton to remain in his present position until a commissioner of corrections is named and that if Murton is able to work with the commissioner, he will be allowed to stay.

"If Mr. Murton cannot work with the new commissioner, then the board will ask Mr. Murton to resign," Haley said.

When Murton first appeared before the newsmen, he quickly excused himself saying he could not talk at that time. The strain over his status, that had been in the air for more than a week, apparently had taken its toll as he temporarily lost his composure.

OEO Plan Not Acceptable

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller was advised Wednesday that his 14-region plan for a statewide anti-poverty program isn't acceptable to the Office of Economic Opportunity under present funding.

OEO Director Sergeant Shriver said he couldn't agree to the drastic relocation of the Community Action Agency program funds that the plan calls for if it were put into effect immediately.

"It is in accordance with this view that our guidelines for organization of community action agencies, state that first priority in funding will be given to those geographical areas already served, including increases in assistance to rural areas that are underfunded," Shriver wrote the governor.

Big Users Are Sharply Critical of Service of Post Office Dept.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Many firms using third-class mail are grumbling about the service they get. But some big users agree with the Post Office Department that the third-class service is fine.

An Associated Press survey of the nation's largest advertising-mail senders showed some sharp criticism of the service—particularly in Boston, Atlanta and Los Angeles.

Third-class mail includes, for the most part, advertising and promotional matter mailed in bulk. Since it costs less than other classifications of mail, it does not get priority treatment.

Still, the Post Office Department—as well as the mailers—winced at the use of third-class's common nickname—"junk mail."

"One man's junk mail," postal officials say, "is another man's bread and butter."

A Post Office spokesman said the department's Customer Relations Division has had few if any complaints from big third-class users.

Those produced by the AP survey, the spokesman said, "will be checked immediately. I can't understand why they would complain to the AP before they complained to us."

An estimated 22.1 billion pieces of third-class mail will flow through the postal system by the time the current fiscal year ends June 30. About 21.5 billion moved last year—and the volume is expected to go up to nearly 22.9 billion in fiscal 1969 despite the recent rise in mailing costs.

As 1968 began, the bulk rate went from 18 to 22 cents a pound, with a minimum charge of 3.6 cents instead of 2.875 cents per piece. The pound rate will remain the same, but the minimum piece rate will go up to 3.8 cents next Jan. 1, and to 4 cents July 1, 1969.

The Post Office estimates the new rates will enable it to cover about 75 per cent of the cost of third-class bulk mail, bringing in revenues of about $182.8 million by July 1969. Third-class rates currently cover only 61 per cent of the cost of the service, a postal spokesman said. The figures are available only in percentages, he added.

The AP survey covered big mailing houses in eight major cities.

Three Chicago mailing titans—Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward and Spiegel, all reported satisfaction with postal handling of their wares. Montgomery Ward called service "unbelievably good," and Spiegel reported that ZIP codes, in-plant loading of mail trucks to bypass congested post offices, and better cooperation between Post Office and company have resulted in marked improvement over the past six months.

But a spokesman for Hub Mail Advertising Service of Boston, who said his firm mails 15 tons of material a day, described third-class service as "violently atrocious, worse than any other time in history. Even with ZIP-coding, there is extremely poor handling. The service is vile."

The Hub spokesman said postal officials "think all direct mail is junk mail... Civil Service employees simply don't work as hard as company employees. The government workers go at a pace no private employer would tolerate."

A Post Office Department spokesman said it had received no complaints from the Hub firm concerning third-class mail service.

of casualties said 2,191 Americans were wounded last week, a relatively high number although well below the previous week's 2,675. The U.S. death toll was exceeded only by that of the week of Feb. 11-17, at the height of the Communists' lunar new year offensive.

The Americans said 3,849 Communist troops were killed last week, while South Vietnamese headquarters put enemy casualties at 5,681 killed and 827 captured. There was no explanation for the discrepancy.

South Vietnamese headquarters also reported a sharp drop in government casualties last week—139 killed and 770 wounded, compared with 434 killed and 1,435 the week before.

authored both amendments.

Adopted 72-23 was an amendment to make it a federal crime to transport, or manufacture for transport in interstate commerce, any firearm, explosive or incendiary device for use in a civil disorder.

Aimed at among other things home-made firebombs and mines, the amendment also would apply to teaching or demonstrating how to make or use them with knowledge or intent they were for furthering a riot.

Violations would be punishable by up to five years' imprisonment. Long, who also sponsored both those amendments, said an anti-riot provision written into the bill a day earlier was worthless because it would be unenforceable.

He referred to the Senate's 82-13 vote Tuesday to make it a federal crime to cross a state line with intent to incite a riot. Long contended that proving a person's intent would be an insurmountable obstacle for government prosecutors.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. J. William Fulbright and John L. McClellan, both Arkansas Democrats, voted the majority Wednesday when the Senate voted to table a motion to reconsider an earlier vote by which it rejected a civil rights amendment that would have made it a federal crime to instigate a riot that interfered with commerce.

Judge Rules Rights Not Violated

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Ralph Dial, 40, of Oklahoma City, who claims his civil rights were violated by his arrest here on a false pretense charge, was denied Wednesday a writ of habeas corpus.

Dial contended before U.S. Senior Judge John E. Miller that he was kidnapped in Oklahoma Dec. 6 and driven to Arkansas to face a charge of obtaining $30,000 from Sam Sexton Jr. and J.H. Hannah, both of Fort Smith, and Dr. Roy Mason of Oklahoma City.

Miller said Dial's alleged "wrongful transportation" from Oklahoma to Arkansas "in itself is not a constitutional violation" under present legislation.

Sexton had testified at a prior hearing that the three and Hoe McCutchen of Fort Smith gave Dial money in November 1965 for mining and exporting tantalite ore in Brazil. Sexton alleged that the mining venture was misrepresented by Dial.

TOO SURE OF HER

Dear Helen:

I've been going with this boy for a year now. At first he was considerate and very sweet. But now, here's what he does:

Whenever we go to one of my dances, he expects introductions to all the girls and spends most of his time impressing them. But when he takes me to one of HIS proms, he doesn't introduce me to anyone except the girls he knows. Then he socializes with them all evening, leaving me alone.

He cuts down my clothes, my family, my friends, the way I do my hair. My folks are wonderful, and they've treated him awfully well.

He's been rude, curt, smart-alecky, snappy and he finds fault with everything I do. If I fight back, he gets mad and sulks.

Now he's started college, and it gets worse. He sometimes stands me up, or else he comes by with-out calling and expects me to drop everything to go out. Also, his hands are getting happy. He says my morals are too rigid for a college man.

Yet, even though he talks about the other girls he knows, and compares me unfavorably, he still says he loves me.

Am I wrong to to - - PRO-TESTING MILDLY

Dear Helen:

Mildness won't change a boy who uses you to sharpen his ego. I'd suggest a foot-stamping protest march - right out of his life. - H.

Dear Helen:

Why do mothers, if they can't make up their minds right off, say, "Ask your father," but, before you can, they get to him and slip him the right word to say, which is "No!" - JIM

Dear Jim:

... Because a man's "No" carries more weight than a woman's. Moreover, she's keeping the final verdict where it belongs - with the head of the house - while neatly shifting responsibility so that she won't be called the villain.

As a boy I know says, "My dad is my mother's biggest weapon. She sure knows how to push HIS weight around!" - H.

Dear Helen:

I am nine years old and my sister is 13. When we get into a fight, which is a lot, she calls me Fatty and I call her Big Nose. How could this be stopped? - WORRIED ONE

Dear One:

Your mother could help a lot if she would get you kids together on a peaceful day and figure out why you're so jealous of each other. This won't stop all the fights, but it may slow down the name-calling. - H.

Dear Helen:

I am a shy boy in high school and think this certain girl is all I want in life.

My problem is: "Hi" is the HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Rare insight into the mind of a creative film maker is offered in a new book, "Hitchcock," by Francois Truffaut.

It took a Frenchman to define the impressive stature of Alfred Hitchcock, who for more than 40 years has been making films in England and America. He is virtually the author of the suspense genre, yet he has never received an Academy Award for direction, although his "Rebecca" was selected the best picture of 1940.

Truffaut, director of "Jules and Jim" and "The 400 Blows" and a former film critic, has long been an admirer of the Hitchcock art. He came to Hollywood for extensive interviews with his idol, and the results of their talks have been published by Simon and Schuster in a handsomely illustrated $10 volume.

Coming: Going

The Rev. and Mrs. Jerry Kidd and Jason Douglas, Ft. Walton Beach, Fla., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Kidd.

Miss Kay Camp, Crosssett, spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Dewey Camp.

Mrs. Jack Pritchett, Prairie Grove, returned home Monday morning after spending a week with her mother, Mrs. H. O. Green. Mr. and Mrs. Paxton Jordan, Magnolia, were also weekend guests of Mrs. Green.

Mrs. E. J. McCabe and Mr. and Mrs. Syd McMath are going to Lafayette, La., Friday to visit Jack McCabe. The McMaths will return in a week, but Mrs. McCabe plans to stay longer.

script before the start of filming and never referred to it. Nord he believe in deviating from the completed script; he couldn't tolerate the expense of having the crew stand by as he made changes. But he did improvise on "The Birds."

On all his other films, Hitchcock proceeded with almost machine-like precision. Not only was each script tightly organized; he made a practice of sketching each camera angle before production began. He was ever the perfectionist, seeking new ways to bring thrills to audiences.

Interview by her former "Payton Place" colleague, Ryan O'Neal. The young actress discussed freely her family relationships, explained her deep interest in Indian religion and meditation. She was not asked about and did not volunteer anything about marriage. The half hour special is apparently a test run for a future series and was called "The New Generation."

"Monte Carlo ... C'est la Rose" was an artful and imaginative combination of guided tour, variety show and fashion show—our tour guide, Princess Grace, wore a different Dior costume in each of her many appearances.

The monumental task of adapting William L. Shirer's "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich"—the book ran to almost 1,500 pages—was begun with an hour program, the first of three to be broadcast later this week.

Researchers have done a thorough and imaginative job of rounding up appropriate material to illustrate the march of events—old news reel film, still photographs, cartoons, and have also interviewed some of Hitler's intimates and followers.

The first show told of Hitler's troubled early life, and then went into greater detail on his emergence in the Germany of the 1920s when the economy, political structure and morale were weak and disturbed. The narrative carried the Nazi chronology up to 1933 when Hitler became chancellor of Germany

NEW YORK (AP)—The strong-eyed television viewer with stamina and staying power had a really special evening on Wednesday night. ABC had four extracurricular programs in a row—a wildly mixed bag, and each, in its own way, excellent.

Without so much as flipping the dial, there were the sight of sea anemones, which look like flowers but are not, trapping and devouring a passing fish; Mia Farrow was confessing she often retreats in a "little fantasy world" of her own; Monte Carlo in all its glamor and beauty was spread before the public and finally, there was an illustrated history on conditions in Germany that led Hitler to power and to World War II.

First program on the schedule was the second in the Jacques Cousteau series about undersea exploration and experimentation. The oceanographer and his crew of divers and photographers this time explored the colorful and strange marine life of a coral atoll off the coast of India. The photography was marvelous and the glimpses of the ocean's flora and fauna exciting and exotic.

Official NIT Pairings Expected

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Marshall's Thundering Herd and the St. Peter's Peacocks have been paired in the opening game of the 1968 National Invitation Tournament, one of the two major postseason extravaganzas in college basketball.

The official pairings for the eight first-round games in the 16-game tournament opening March 14 are expected to be announced this afternoon. However, the athletic directors at several of the participating colleges disclosed Wednesday night that they had been informed of their first-round opponents.

Their revelations showed these first round pairings:
Thursday night, March 14 — Marshall vs. St. Peter's, 7 p.m., EST. Second game pairing not disclosed.

Friday night, March 15 — Kansas vs. Temple, 7 p.m. Wyoming vs. Villanova, 9 p.m.

Saturday afternoon, March 16 — Army vs. Notre Dame, 2 p.m., expected to be televised. Second afternoon game pairing not disclosed.

Saturday night, March 16 — pairing for 7 p.m. first game not disclosed. West Virginia vs. Dayton, 9 p.m.

No information was given out by the other teams in the field, Bradley, Duquesne, Long Island, Fordham, Oklahoma City and the Atlantic Coast Conference representative expected to be either Duke or North Carolina.

"I have no comment on that," said Asa Bushnell, commissioner of the Eastern College Athletic Conference, when told that Eddie Barnett, athletic director at Marshall in Huntington, W. Va., had announced the pairing with St. Peter's. The ECAC is in charge of the NIT.

"All the pairings, along with what brackets the teams are in, will be announced Thursday afternoon," said a spokesman for Madison Square Garden where the games will be played.

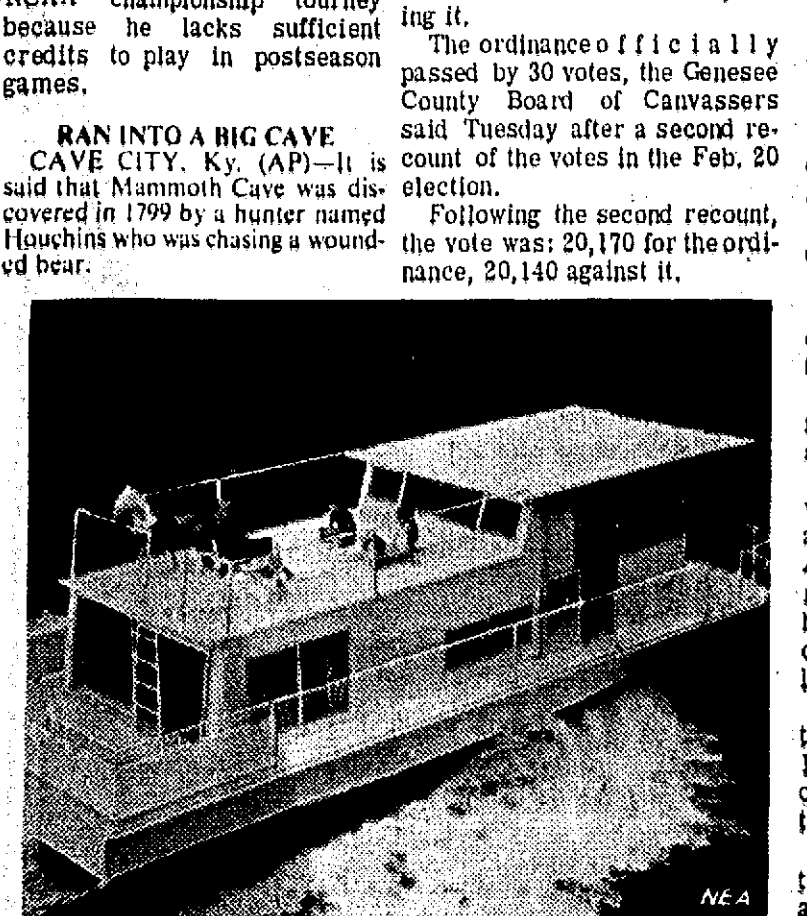

The information on the Kansas-Temple pairing came from KU at Lawrence, Kan., on the Wyoming-Villanova pairing from Wyoming at Laramie, on the Army-Notre Dame pairing from Army at West Point and on the West Virginia-Dayton pairing from Robert Brown, the Mountaineers' athletic director at Morgantown, W. Va.

West Virginia only a few hours earlier had become the 15th team in the tourney which ends Saturday afternoon, March 23. The quarter-finals are scheduled for Monday and Tuesday night, March 18-19, with the semifinals Thursday, March 21.

There were only a few major games played Wednesday night. St. Peter's beat Fairleigh Dickinson 106-80. Duquesne conquered St. Francis, Pa., 109-103. Texas-El Paso edged Arizona State 85-81 and Tennessee landed second place in the Southeastern Conference by defeating Auburn in overtime 63-54.

George Reynolds, one of the starters for Houston's top-ranked and unbeaten Cougars, was declared ineligible for the NCAA championship tourney because he lacks sufficient credits to play in postseason games.

Battle for 4th Place in Pro Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The battle for fourth place in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division rapidly is turning into a battle for third place.

Cincinnati, Detroit and Baltimore have been staging a furious battle for the final division playoff spot — the top four teams make the playoffs — but now they all are creeping up on third-place New York.

The Knicks were beaten by Boston Wednesday night for the second straight day, this time losing 103-91. Cincinnati, which beat Philadelphia 108-106, now is only 2 1/2 games behind the Knicks. Detroit, a 140-118 victor over San Diego, is just 3 1/2 games back.

In the only other NBA game Wednesday night, St. Louis downed Los Angeles 112-96. In the American Basketball Association, Denver edged Minnesota 102-100.

The Knicks' point total was the same low one they had in losing to the Celtics the night before. The Celtics overcame a slow start and a 20-9 New York lead behind John Havlicek's 25 points and Bailey Howell's 24. Cazzle Russell led the Knicks with 24.

Oscar Robertson scored 35 points and had two straight jump shots in the closing minutes to lead the Royals past the 76ers. Wilt Chamberlain appeared to tie the game in the closing seconds, but the buzzer had sounded. Chamberlain's 22 points led Philadelphia.

The Pistons won their third straight on the strength of a big second period. Eddie Miles scored 37 points, Len Chappell 25 and Dave DeBusschere 22 for Detroit while Henry Finkel had 26 for the Rockets, who lost their 25th game in 26 starts.

Zelmo Beaty had 25 points and Don Ohl 21 as the Hawks ended the Lakers' seven-game winning streak and reduced their own magic number for clinching the Western Division title to two. Elgin Baylor led the Lakers with 20 points.

Willie Murrell's basket in the closing seconds won the game for Denver. Murrell led the Rockets with 27 points. Mel Daniels and Don Freeman scored 24 apiece for Minnesota.

Baseball to Open Play in Florida
By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The major league exhibition baseball season opens today with the New York Yankees opposing the Washington Senators at Pompano Beach, Fla.

Five more games are listed for Friday with the remainder of the 20 big league clubs swinging into action on Saturday. The regular season opens April 8 in both the National and American Leagues.

Mel Stottlemyre of the Yankees and Bill Denney of the Senators were named as the starting pitchers for the opening game of the exhibition season. Stottlemyre had a 15-15 record last year while Denney was 1-7 with the New York Mets and 3-3 with Jacksonville in 1967.

Sluggo Mickey Mantle also is expected to be in the Yankee lineup, but like most of the other starters probably will play only a few innings.

Starting pitchers for some of the five games Friday also were named. Ferguson Jenkins will start for the Chicago Cubs against Ray Sadecki of the Giants in the Chicago-San Francisco game at Scottsdale, Ariz.

On Saturday Ken Johnson will open for Atlanta against Los Angeles at West Palm Beach. There was good news for Cincinnati and Boston fans from the training camps Wednesday. Pitcher Jim Maloney and outfielder Vada Pinson of the Reds signed their contracts.

Jim Lonborg of the Red Sox, winner of the Cy Young Award as the outstanding pitcher in the AL for 1967, had the cast removed from his right knee. It had been injured in a skiing accident near Lake Tahoe, Nev., last December.

The 22-game winner expects to be able to pitch before May 15 and asserted: "Skiing is out of my life in the foreseeable future."

First baseman Wes Parker of the Dodgers smacked a triple and a single to lead the regulars over the Reserves in a Los Angeles intra-squad game Wednesday at Vero Beach, Fla.

Joe Moeck's two-run triple in the seventh gave the Joe Pignas a 6-4 victory over the Yogi Berras in the New York Mets' camp at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Catcher Johnny Stevenson banged out a triple, two doubles and a single in the Cubs' camp game at Scottsdale where Commissioner William D. Eckert was a spectator.

Leo Durocher, manager of the Cubs, was hit on the right knee by a line drive off the bat of catcher Randy Hundley in the pre-game drill.

Leachville, Jonesboro Post Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jonesboro unexpectedly unseated another top-ranked team and moved from underdog to dark horse in the Class AAA basketball tournament here Wednesday.

The Hurricanes handed Blytheville, ranked No. 3 in the Associated Press High School poll, its sixth defeat 62-54, while Little Rock Central trounced Little Rock McClellan 59-38 and Pine Bluff downed El Dorado 59-53.

In Class AA tournament play, Leachville edged Merrill of Pine Bluff 65-64. Conway waltzed past Rogers 58-35 and Stuttgart eliminated Camden Lincoln 59-49.

Blytheville jumped out to a 7-1 lead and stretched it to 17-11 at the end of the first period. But Jonesboro rallied with 23 points and took a 34-25 half time lead.

A fourth quarter rally by Blytheville made it 51-51 with 2:39 left in the game. Then Jonesboro's Terry Ray hit for two more of his 16 points and put it away for the Hurricanes, who ten pulled ahead for good.

Region 2AA Champions Conway never trailed in its 58-35 victory over outclassed Rogers. Ike Skaggs had 16 points for Rogers, including 12 in the second half while Steve Fulmer and Mike New hit for 12 each for Conway.

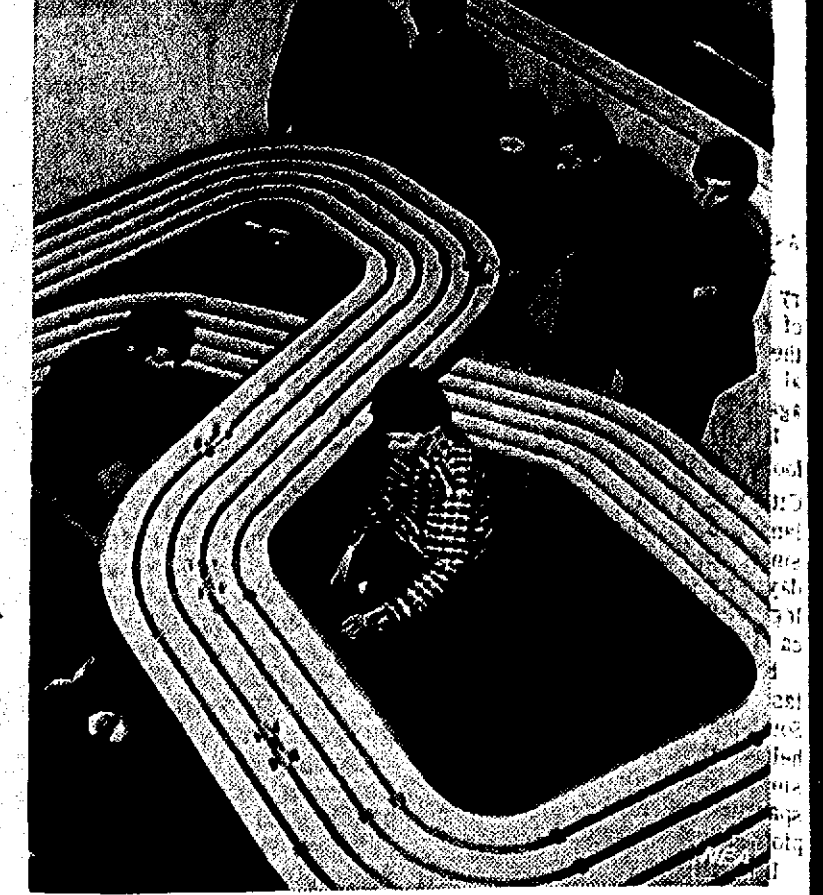

A last second 25-foot jump shot by Joe Sharp lifted Leachville over Merrill 65-64, after Merrill blew a three-point lead with only 21 seconds left. Leachville will play the winner of tonights game between Harrison and Crossett Friday in the semi-finals.

A 1-0 lead was as close as McClellan could come before Central wiped out the slim margin and took a commanding lead. The score was 19-11 at the end of the first quarter, 27-16 at the half and 39-27 at the end of the third period.

A big second half pulled Pine Bluff over El Dorado. The Zebras trailed 32-29 at the half and were ahead by only one point, 46-45, at the end of the third period.

Stuttgart took a 19-9 lead at the end of the first quarter and stymied a third period rally in downing Lincoln 59-49. The Rice Owls rapped it up by making 12 of its fourth period points from the foul line.

The Battle of the Alamo lasted 13 days.

among them in Toronto's victory over the expansionist Flyers. The work of the newcomers overshadowed two goals by Bob Pulford, who, like Mahovlich, has long been rumored as trade bait by the Leafs.

Mahovlich had a less successful debut with Detroit against the Rangers. He and linemates Alex Delvecchio and Gordie Howe were on the ice for half of New York's six goals.

Sid Abel, the Red Wings' manager-coach, was satisfied with the work of the Big M and his two other new men, Gary Unger and Pete Stenkowski.

"I thought the three fellows we got played better than the rest of our team," said Abel. Mahovlich, asked how it felt to be playing with his new teammates, said simply, "It felt different."

Stan Mikita took over the break Oakland's five-game NHL scoring lead with a goal defeated streak.

Small College All America Team Listed

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Can Larry Newbold be the Walt Frazier of 1968 and lead Long Island to the championship of the National Invitation Tournament against major teams?

It will be asking a lot of the 6-foot-2 senior from New York City whose play helped Long Island become the country's No. 1 small college team and who today was named to the 1968 college basketball Little All-America by The Associated Press.

Frazier, a Little All-American last year, did it in 1967 for Southern Illinois. His play helped the Salukis to the No. 1 small college spot and then sparked SIU to the NIT championship.

Like Southern Illinois a year ago, Long Island passed up an invitation to participate in the NCAA college division tournament for the national small college title in favor of playing in the NIT. The Blackbirds already have beaten Duquesne, a major team which also is in the NIT.

Four other seniors were named on the first team Little All-America along with Newbold in the annual AP voting by 119 sportswriters and broadcasters.

The quartet, each given the highest credentials, were Jerry McGreal, 6-2, of Illinois State; Bob Kauffman, 6-8, of Guilford; John Ray Godfrey, 6-3, of Abilene Christian; and Henry Logan, 6-0, of Western Carolina.

Willie Scott of Alabama State, John Rinka of Canyon, Dallas Thornton of Kentucky Wesleyan, Jerry Newsum of Indiana State and Larry Jeffries of Trinity, Tex., were picked for the Second team.

Chosen as the third team were Darryl Jones of St. Benedict's, Kan., Mike Davis of Virginia Union, Glynn Sauters of Northeast Louisiana, Lou Shepherd of Southwest Missouri and Hal Dohling of Portland State.

Spitball Rule Is on Probation

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — The new "spitball" rule in major league baseball, which has come under attack before the first game was played, will be on probation during the spring training season that begins today.

As most clubs open their Grapefruit and Cactus League exhibition schedules over the weekend, umpires have been instructed to enforce the new rule rigidly. It stipulates that a pitcher touching his pitching hand to his mouth is warned once and ejected from the game on a second offense.

"This is the place to test the rule," American League President Joe Cronin said Wednesday after a meeting with his umpires. "If any modification of the rule is necessary, then it should become apparent here during spring training."

Cal Hubbard, supervisor of the league's umpires and one of those critical of the rule, said he had told umpires to be strict in enforcing the rule.

Those who oppose the rule say that it will cause all kinds of enforcement problems.

Young Groom of Four Days Found Dead

MURFREESBORO, Ark. (AP) — A young man was found dead and his bride of four days unconscious Tuesday afternoon at a motel at nearby Daisy.

Coroner Jeff Riley of Pike County said James Barton Gordon, 20, of Omaha, Neb., possibly died of carbon monoxide poisoning. An autopsy was being conducted.

Darlene Running Gordon, 20, his bride, was listed in satisfactory condition Wednesday at a Nashville, Ark., hospital.

Riley said Gordon was on leave from the Navy at Long Beach, Calif. He said they checked into the motel Tuesday and the motel operator discovered the two.

Americans Split in Colombia

BARRANQUILLA, Colombia (AP) — Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., defeated Ingrid Lof Dahl of Sweden 6-2, 6-3 in the third round of the women's singles in an international tennis tournament Wednesday. Mark Cox of England defeated Gardner Mulloy of Miami 6-3, 6-3 in the men's singles.

Czechs Will Demand Return of Defector

VIENNA (AP) — Czechoslovakia announced today it is demanding the extradition of a Czech general who has defected to the United States.

CTK, the official Czechoslovak News Agency, reported: "The Czechoslovak Foreign Ministry announced that on the basis of a valid agreement on mutual extradition of criminals between Czechoslovakia and the United States, steps are being taken through the Czechoslovak Embassy in Washington to secure the extradition of Jan Sejna."

"Maj. Gen. Jan Sejna is wanted in Czechoslovakia for offenses concerning property and misuse of authority of a public official," it said.

Sejna's defection is expected to have far-reaching repercussions in Czechoslovakia.

It may lead to the resignation of the ministers of defense and the interior. High-ranking military officers could also lose their positions.

The committee of Communists in the army held a plenary session to discuss the Sejna case and demanded that "both the minister of defense and of the interior should take a public attitude on the case."

They said: "Those whom it concerns should make self-critical conclusions after they have quit their posts."

The U.S. State Department announced Wednesday that Sejna has defected to the United States with his son and his son's fiancée.

In Washington, U.S. military intelligence information indicated that Sejna rose spectacularly from farm worker to general, apparently without ever commanding troops.

"If he's had troop duty, it doesn't show," a Pentagon source said. "It looks like he's been a political general all the way."

In many Communist armies, political officers are more powerful than the line military types. And Sejna, now in the United States, is described as the most powerful political official in the Czech defense ministry before he fled last month.

It appears he could give U.S. authorities invaluable information on secret Warsaw Pact plans.

The United States already knows much about the disposition of troops and aircraft and rocket forces of the nine-nation Communist pact group, counterpart of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. But only a high-ranking officer like Sejna is likely to have the key to inner secrets of the Communist military alliance, including mobilization schedules and possible objectives of Communist offensives as spelled out in contingency plans.

Some sources suggested the Communists may have to undertake a drastic change in many of these secret plans now that Sejna has crossed over to the West.

The State Department acknowledged Wednesday that Sejna, his son and his son's fiancée had defected to the United States.

The Major General has been accused by Czech authorities of misappropriating state funds. But the consensus in U.S. circles is that his departure was prompted by fear he would be purged as a result of a recent political turnover in Czechoslovakia.

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The International Association of Pipe Smokers Clubs Inc. will hold its 20th annual pipe smoking contest and convention in Ann Arbor Aug. 2-3.

The contest winner will be the smoker who can keep his pipe going longest without relighting. Each is given 3.3 grams of tobacco. The International record was set by the late Max Ignee of Flint, Mich., who kept his pipe going 125 minutes and 7 seconds in 1954.

Thieu Fails in Bid for More Power

By BARRY KRAMER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu's request for additional special powers in the face of the Communist offensive was turned down today by the South Vietnamese Senate.

The upper house overwhelmingly rejected his request for one year of special powers in economy and finance, repealing a similar action by the house of representatives last Friday.

The vote of the 60-member Senate was 40 against, three for, one abstention, and the others absent.

The legislative rejection in both cases was on constitutional grounds, a fear that the president was trying to take too much power away from the two houses. Thieu already had declared martial law, under which his government has detained about 30 members of the opposition, declared accelerated mobilization and clamped on a nationwide curfew.

The rejection of his request for additional powers means that the government will have to submit each economic and financial measure to the legislature.

The Senate's rejection appeared based on the fear that it might lose too much power if it granted Thieu's request.

The House's action was in part a rebuff of the government's handling of the lunar new year offensive of the Communists.

In the House Thursday, a petition was circulated which could lead to a vote of no confidence in the government.

Reports have been circulating that other government leaders are unhappy with Premier Nguyen Van Loc's performance and that he wants to resign.

Fears Drain of Troops From Home

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators have quickly launched a study of U. S. troop levels in Korea and at home to see if the Vietnam war has drained reserve strength below safe levels.

The study by aides of the Senate preparedness subcommittee could provide new fuel for congressional demands that ground Reservists and National Guardsmen be mobilized to fill gaps caused by continuing increases in Vietnam troop strengths.

It comes against the background of new talk that military leaders in Vietnam want 100,000 more fighting men.

Sources said subcommittee aides have been in the Far East about a week and are expected to return to Washington next week.

Thier emphasis, the sources said, is on Korea, where the United States has some 50,000 ground troops. Most are concentrated in the 2nd and 7th Infantry Divisions.

Troop strength in the United States, which totaled about 10 Army and Marine ground divisions when the big Vietnam build-up began in 1965, is now down to about half that number and faces further reduction if the Johnson administration agrees to send more troops to Vietnam.

Meanwhile, Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., a member of the Armed Services Committee and a leading advocate of stepped-up military action in Vietnam, said he thinks call-ups of reservists and guardsmen will be necessary in the weeks ahead.

Tower told reporters the troops would be needed to fill gaps in the strategic reserve in this country and possibly in the U. S. force in Europe, if more men are sent to Vietnam.

The current U. S. troop ceiling in Vietnam is 525,000, scheduled to be reached this summer. Troop strength is now about 505,000. But Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U. S. commander, is reportedly asking for another 100,000 troops.

Such congressional chairmen as Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., of the House Armed Services Committee, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee and Sen. John C. Stennis, D-

Miss., of the preparedness group, have long said reserves may have to be called up.

But the Johnson administration has resisted, preferring to raise needed troops by increased draft calls and use of the strategic reserves.

How to Avoid Dollar Drain in Traveling

By JOSEPH R. COYNE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — It would be possible for a U.S. tourist to travel abroad, add nothing to the balance-of-payments deficit and yet still get hit with the tax on overseas spending proposed by President Johnson.

This would apply to American tourists who confine their overseas spending to Ceylon, Guinea, India, Israel, Pakistan, Tunisia and the United Arab Republic.

These are countries in which the United States has an overabundance of local currencies—sometimes called counterpart funds—which can be used by U.S. businessmen and tourists. Most of the currencies were obtained through sales of U.S. food to nations that couldn't afford to pay dollars.

U.S. embassies and consulates in those countries will exchange U.S. dollars for the local currencies without any extra charge and the dollars stay on the U.S. books. The balance of payments isn't hurt.

But officials said the travel tax legislation sent to Congress in February provides for no exemptions based on specific countries visited.

An American could buy a plane ticket on a U.S. carrier for a globe-circling trip and his fare would remain in the United States, adding nothing to the balance-of-payments deficit.

Under the administration's proposals his ticket would be subject to a 5 per cent excise tax. His destination wouldn't change that.

But by visiting only those seven countries and converting his dollars into local currencies at the U.S. Embassy, he could avoid any impact on the dollar drain through his spending. On returning to the United States, however, he would still be socked by a travel tax designed to reduce the balance-of-payments deficit.

There are more major league baseball teams in California than in any other state.

THE DOCTOR SAYS Follow Safety Measures During Electrical Storm

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

If you believe that lightning never strikes twice in the same place, you should try being as tall as the Empire State Building. It is struck about 68 times a year—largely because it is so tall. If, during an electrical storm, you are in an open field or on a golf course, you may well be the tallest structure around, in which case lightning may single you out for special attention. In such a situation, you should run for cover or lie flat on the ground. You should not, however, seek cover under a lone tree or the tallest of a group of trees.

You are usually safe indoors during an electrical storm and, according to the National Safety Council, you need not be afraid to use the telephone, despite the fact that a 6-year-old boy in Lexington, Ky., was electrocuted while talking on the telephone. Careful investigation showed that in this unusual accident lightning first struck an improperly grounded television antenna. It then traveled down to a window air conditioner that was running and entered the body of the boy, who was leaning against or seated very close to this device.

If you are driving your car when an electrical storm occurs, your safest spot is inside the car. Unless the rain is so heavy as to interfere with visibility, there is no need to stop the car. Your tires are a poor conductor of electricity and will prevent any lightning that strikes your car from being grounded. If you must pull off the road, don't park under a tree or near a telephone pole because the lightning might cause it to fall on top of your car. If by some remote chance an overhead electric wire should fall on your car, your best bet is to remain inside it until help arrives. During this time, avoid touching any of the metal parts inside your car. If you want to summon help by sounding your horn, you should use a wooden stick or piece of plastic to press the button.

Q—Could a bloody mucous discharge from the bowel in a 60-year-old man be caused by anything but cancer?

A—Yes—ulcerative colitis, bleeding piles or amebic dysentery, to name a few of the possibilities. Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Blackwood is another fine convention that every expert uses on occasion. Like Stayman, it is an important tool in the bidding kit, but you should only use it when there is a good reason.

Thus, no expert uses the jump to four no-trump in response to an opening bid of one or two no-trump as anything but a no-trump raise. If our expert wants to ask for aces, he may jump in a suit first and then bid four no-trump or he may jump to four clubs. This is the Gerber convention, which treats certain four-club bids as ace demands. Partner responds with four diamonds to show no ace or four hearts to show one ace, four spades to show two aces and four no-trump to show three.

With 15 high card points, North wanted to be in a slam if his partner had a good no-trump opening. In that case, North figured that aces would take care of themselves.

South might well have passed, but he liked the fact that his 16 high card points included three aces and a king and that his fifth heart would probably be a trick.

When he saw the dummy, he felt fairly happy. He could count 11 easy tricks and had a possible 12th in clubs. If this didn't materialize, there was a two-way diamond finesse at his disposal.

He could have made the hand easily by playing East for ace and one club, but that seemed too extreme, so he played dummy's king of clubs on West's 10. East took his ace and returned a heart. South won in dummy and promptly ran off three heart tricks, at which point East made the mistake of discarding a small diamond.

Why was this a mistake? South was bridge teacher Sol Seidman of Brooklyn. He was sure that East would not make that discard unless he held five diamonds. Therefore, when he finally got around to playing diamonds, Sol led to dummy's king and finessed against East's queen for his 12th trick.

Dramatic Story Lies Behind Postal Fight on Deficits

Each year the Post Office Department handles a bigger business and winds up with a still bigger operating loss — and Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien is perhaps the first postal chief in history who's trying to do something about it.

Fortune magazine recently carried the detailed and dramatic story of O'Brien's attempted reform program, and this was condensed for Southern Newspaper Publishers Association, Chattanooga, Tenn., by Loyal Phillips and distributed in SNPA's membership bulletins — duly received by The Star as a member paper.

Mr. Phillips is general manager of the Elizabeth City (N.C.) Daily Advance, and chairman of SNPA's Postal Committee. Here are some highlights from his review of the Fortune magazine report:

"... by the year 2000 every man, woman, and ambulant child in the U.S. will be delivering the mail. Until recently, the creaky old Post Office has managed to struggle along more or less abreast of increasing volume — usually by adding to a workforce that now number 700,000. Wages have increased far more than productivity. Meanwhile the deficit has soared and service has deteriorated. In the past two years, to their consternation, mail volume has risen at almost double the normal 3 per cent annual rate. It was up 9 per cent from December 1965. Last October a mail jam in Chicago demonstrated the sobering fact that the U.S. mail system can break down.

"Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien is turning out to be the strongest, most imaginative boss the department has ever had. The Post Office is like no business on earth. It is and forever will remain a political institution. O'Brien is running the show. Overriding his cautious engineers, he launched a $100-million crash mechanization program — including a computer center, which eventually will keep track of mail flow and manpower use in the seventy-five largest post offices.

"Most of today's mail is collected, processed, and delivered by the same methods employed a century ago. Even in a post office as important as Chicago's, throngs of clerks still perch before pigeonhole cages, laboriously sorting individual letters by hand at the rate of about thirty a minute. So great is the human effort involved that 81 per cent of the Post Office's current budget of $6.3 billion goes to pay workers.

"Post Office turnover has jumped from a prewar 13 per cent to a current 21 per cent. Last year the department had to take on 180,000 employees to fill 90,000 new jobs. The decline in the caliber of personnel is evident in many large post offices. Today postal recruits are still disproportionately Negro. But employment bars have come down in private industry and other government agencies, leaving the Post Office to forage among those with lesser skills.

"The Union leaders declare publicly they have no fear of mechanization, but they manage to find fault with almost every device the Post Office installs. They fire public broadsides against the zip code, which is central to all future mechanization plans.

"The picture is hardly any better at the supervisory level. Until recently, promotions depended to a considerable degree on political influence. Nearly all belong to the 30,400 member National Association of Postal Supervisors, now demanding contract negotiations with the very management of which they are a part. Just above the supervisors are 33,000 postmasters — every one of them chosen subject to the veto of a Congressman or local political chieftain.

"On balance, Congress holds too tight a rein on the Post Office and the influence has not always been benevolent. Mechanization of collection and delivery, for example, does not look very promising. Mailmen will probably always be needed to pick up mail from hundreds of thousands of postboxes and to carry it to millions of front doors. But two-thirds of all postal workers are employed inside the nation's

Red Shelling Eases, 49 on Plane Killed

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — A near-record 542 Americans were killed in combat in South Vietnam last week, only one less than the highest weekly toll of the war, the U.S. Command announced today.

The toll continued this week, with 24 Americans killed in ground fighting Wednesday and another 48 presumed dead in the crash of a C-123 transport shot down five miles from the U.S. Marine combat base at Khe Sanh. But the U.S. Command said its troops killed at least 158 Communists in the clashes Wednesday.

The Viet Cong's bombardment of towns and military posts in South Vietnam tapered off today, with attacks by mortars and rockets on only three points reported.

In the air war, U.S. Navy pilots made coordinated night attacks Wednesday on six targets in the Hanoi-Haiphong area, including a battery plant seven miles south of Hanoi and a transshipment point hit several times before.

Hanoi claimed three U.S. planes were shot down, but there was no report of any losses from the U.S. Command.

Chief Function of All Double-talk Is to Avoid Actual Meaning

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The class in double-talk will please come to order.

As you will remember, students, double-talk represents the final evolution of language in one of its chief functions—the avoidance of meaning.

All successful civilizations are built on double-talk, which is the art of saying one thing while thinking the opposite. Only in savage or barbarian societies do people frankly say what they mean or mean what they say.

Here, for class study, are a few typical examples of modern double-talk—followed by their actual meaning.

"If ever I can be of any possible assistance to you—" Don't call me; I'll call you.

"The beef stew here is said to be the best in town. Shall we try it together?" If I could afford steak, I'd tell you to order post offices, and even with the limitations of today's technology a great deal can be done to mechanize their jobs. O'Brien is determined to do it, and is spending four times as much on this task as the department did as recently as 1963. With the programs he has initiated or expanded over the past sixteen months, O'Brien has made an impressive start in his battle to improve the postal service.

"But many of the most critical skirmishes lie ahead, and whether O'Brien or anyone can rescue the postal system is still very much in doubt."

Corruption Among the Officials of Vietnam Leaves War in Doubt

By DICK BARNES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The intriguing story of how U.S. advisers played along with a corrupt South Vietnamese official until he was ousted during his own government's infighting is told in a series of private government reports to Washington.

Other frustrations of U.S. advisers trying to weed out corruption and inefficiency in South Vietnam's customs agency also are strikingly portrayed in the reports, sent by the chief of a U.S. advisory team to his superiors in Washington.

Copies recently were turned over to Chairman Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, of the Senate foreign aid expenditures subcommittee, and made available to The Associated Press on condition the adviser's name not be used.

The adviser has told the U.S. mission in Saigon that corruption is "permeating all echelons of government and society... unless it is substantially reduced on a broad scale, and very soon at that, there are serious doubts that this war can ever be really 'won.'" He proposed that the United States boldly take direct action against corruption, claiming there aren't enough honest Vietnamese officials to do the job.

On the basis of the adviser's reports, Gruening announced Wednesday that his subcommittee would open a new investigation of corruption in the South Vietnamese government.

In a report dated last Dec. 6, the adviser discussed the director-general of Vietnamese customs, Nguyen van Loc—no relation to the premier of the same name.

"During the last several months it has become obvious that Director Loc has at the very least (1) condoned important contraband smuggling operations, and (2) was promoting the day-to-day system of payoffs in certain areas of customs activities.

"In the instance of contraband it has been difficult (but more importantly — unnecessary) to classify Loc's participation as being either personally involved for profit, facilitating smuggling on demand by those to whom he is indebted, or merely the acts of a negligent administrator.

"In the second instance, that is fostering a system of tolls and payoffs as a standard system, it was apparent that Loc had structured this system by placing 'trusted' personnel in key positions. In this area we were satisfied that Director Loc was more than merely derelict in his duty."

"Loc was vulnerable, and many of his lieutenants considered the time right for confidential disclosure to their counterparts in this unit."

"Loc was aware of, or at least surmised these disclosures, and he reacted with something resembling bravado. He said that he would welcome any information possessed by this unit indicating corruption."

"It was decided that it would be useful to take Director Loc's See CORRUPTION on Page Two

School of Choice Up to Parents

James H. Jones, Superintendent of Schools, announced today that all parents who have children who will be six years old on or before October 1, 1968, will enroll in the school of their choice, or nearest their home, during the week of April 1, 1968.

Choice forms will be given each student who is presently enrolled in first through eleventh grades on Monday, March 11, 1968.

If parents do not receive a choice form for each child in family group, notify the principal where student is in attendance, or the superintendent's office, and one will be provided.

Every effort will be made to assign pupils to the school of their choice. However, it may be that transfers will have to be made in order to balance the teacher load and prevent overcrowding.

Registration for first grade children will be at the following schools:

Beryl Henry, Brookwood, Garland, Guernsey, Hopewell, Paisley, Shover Street.

Date of registration April 1 to April 5 inclusive, Time 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., each day.

Tells of Need for Epidemic of Safety

Mr. Josh Morris, Jr., an executive with Offenhauer Insurance Agency of Texarkana, was the keynote speaker at the "Safety Week" assembly program Wednesday morning at Hope High School.

Mr. Morris emphasized in his address a need for the youth of today to start a "safety epidemic" in an attempt to curb the rising number of traffic fatalities.

Along with the assembly this week, the Student Council Safety Committee, headed by Crit Stuart, has also planned a variety of tests and activities for the student body to take part in.

During this week, students have been checked by Council members on their driving abilities while entering and leaving campus.

A cartoon contest and a safe driving contest are being held, too, with cash prizes for the winners.

Rights Bill Battle Is Raging, Even Kennedy Brothers Are Split

By JOHN CHADWICK

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has laced the civil rights-open housing bill with more antiriot provisions after a heated debate over expanding federal police powers that split the Kennedy brothers.

More attempts to dilute the open-housing part of the controversy-laden legislation were in prospect today, but Wednesday's fast-paced action centered on riot-prevention.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., supported a proposed amendment that would make sniping, destroying property or other violence during a riot a federal crime.

His brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., strongly opposed the amendment, which was defeated 64 to 27.

Robert Kennedy said it would "change the whole complexion of the civil rights struggle" by bringing the federal government into local law enforcement "to a degree we never contemplated when I was attorney general."

His brother said it would extend FBI jurisdiction "into every town and city." He said there had been no determination whether the FBI wanted this or had the manpower to handle it.

A proposed antiriot amendment raised the question of "whether we want to change our form of government." It also was rejected.

El Dorado Placed Under Curfew

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Mayor I. L. Poses declared a state of emergency in El Dorado today and placed the city under curfew because of recent bottle and rock throwing incidents involving Negro and white teenagers.

Authorities said Molotov cocktails were tossed outside two business establishments Wednesday night. Only minor damage was reported. Two persons were arrested Wednesday, officials said.

The incidents reportedly stem from the acquittal last week of a 17-year-old El Dorado white youth who was charged with the murder of a 19-year-old El Dorado Negro.

Signs Good That Miners Still Alive

By VERNON A. GUIDRY Jr.

Associated Press Writer

CALUMET, La. (AP) — Two rescue experts rode a creaky, makeshift elevator 1,200 feet down a murky shaft early today to an area where 21 salt miners had been trapped more than 30 hours. They found a fair supply of oxygen and heard a motor running.

"There is some reason to be encouraged, some to be discouraged," said F. Clayton Tonnemaker, a vice president of Cargill, Inc., owners of the coastal salt mine. "The men did not see anyone, saw no lights, heard no (human) sounds."

Tonnemaker said the fact the two troubleshooters heard a diesel motor running was encouraging because of the fact it could not run unattended more than 30 hours—and the men had been isolated longer than that.

"This leads us to believe that someone started the diesel after the fire," he said.

The rescue specialists said they saw a "red glow" in the distance.

"The red glow means there is a small fire in the area of the mine's fan," Tonnemaker said. "It is a small fire, not much flame. When the next two men go down, if there is no problem, they'll get it out in about 10 minutes."

Fire meant oxygen was in the area. A Cargill spokesman said there was a "pretty fair" supply of oxygen at the bottom of the shaft, enough to sustain life.

Another exploratory trip down the fire-blackened mine shaft was delayed while workmen placed a protective cover over the small elevator. On the first trip, one man was slightly injured when a chunk of salt fell, striking his shoulder.

Bulldozers were to be used on return trips in hopes of commu-

Life in Arkansas

By TOMMY YATES
Associated Press Writer

The role of women in the business community has risen steadily in recent years, and, according to a Pine Bluff woman, that role will become bigger in future years.

"One of these days we can stand on our numbers in business and do as we jolly-well please," Mrs. A. D. Farrell said.

"After 50 years of struggle for equal rights, there are still some drawbacks in being a female," she said. Some things women can't do, she said, including going hitchhiking "with any degree of safety" and being ordained in the Church of England.

She said, however, that today women are finding a place in the man's world of business, but this presents its own set of problems, too.

"One man said the trouble women in business is if you treat them like a woman, they cry and if you treat them like me, they get the best of you," she said.

Mrs. Farrell said there are many jobs where women are preferred, but she said, that equal pay for equal work is still not a reality in many jobs.

Mrs. Farrell said that men needed more flexible standards when judging women and pointed out that two million married women today work for supplemental income to provide necessities or luxuries for their families.

The image that the American woman is "frail and pale" is changing, and now one out of three workers are women, she said.

Over-all, Mrs. Farrell said, the only reason women "won't be quite as successful as men is because they don't have wives to help them."

Turnpike Meet Set

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Turnpike Authority is scheduled to meet in the governor's office at 11 a.m. Friday to hear reports on the feasibility of constructing turnpikes in the state.

The report, compiled by Wilbur Smith & Associates, has been kept confidential until it can be presented to the authority.

The Associated Press had a report that the firm concluded no route in Arkansas would be financially feasible for a turnpike unless the state would guarantee the bonds with its faith and credit.

screen shows a precise picture of the geography, even down to such minute detail as small rivers and hills.

Big purchase orders of the A7A are in store the next few years, officials said.

The Navy already is buying 199 models at a flyaway cost of $1.4 million each, and plans to purchase about 200 more of a very slightly modified A7B version.

The Air Force also is programmed for about 500 A7D versions with somewhat different engines, and the Navy is looking ahead to 400 to 500 follow-on A7E models in the 1970s.

Aside from the F4 Phantom jet, the A7A is believed to be the largest aircraft procurement program going. The Corsair II has already replaced the old prop-driven A1 Skyraiders and currently replacing many of the A4 Skyhawk light attack jets.

The bonds will be general obligations of Hempstead County to the payment of which the County will pledge its full faith, credit and taxing power under Amendment No. 49 to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, including particularly a 1/4 mill special continuing annual tax on the dollar of the assessed valuation of the taxable real and personal property in the County, subject, however to the provisions hereafter set forth pertaining to the suspension of the collection of said tax. The assessed valuation of the taxable real and personal property in the County according to the 1967 assessment, the latest assessment of record is $16,175,855.

The proceeds of the bonds will be used, together with available funds, for acquiring land and constructing and equipping a manufacturing building (called "Project"), to be leased to and operated by Hope Wire Products, Incorporated, (called "Hope Wire"). Hope Wire presently conducts manufacturing operations in Hempstead County which have developed to the point that enlarged industrial operations are necessary. The Project will be leased to Hope Wire and the lease rentals and any other revenues derived from the Project may be applied to the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds. In this regard, provision will be made by the County in the Order authorizing the issuance of the bonds for the suspension of the collection of the special tax as long as there is no default by the Lessee under the Lease Agreement. The conditions in the Authorizing Order will be such that there will be no partial suspension so that there will be available for the payment of the principal of and interest on bonds either the entire proceeds of the tax or the lease rentals under the Lease Agreement.

The purchaser may name the bank of payment and shall have the right to convert the bonds to an issue bearing a lower rate or rates of interest with any conversion to be in accordance with the Universal Bond Values Tables and upon such terms that the County receive no less and pay no more than it would receive and pay if the bonds were not converted. Any conversion will be subject to the approval of the bank of payment and the County Court. The expenses of the issue, including the printing and trustee of the bonds and the fee of Smith, Williams, Friday & Bowen, Bond Counsel, of Little Rock, Arkansas, upon whose approving opinion the bonds will be issued, will be paid by the County.

The bonds will be callable for payment prior to maturity in inverse numerical order at par and accrued interest as follows: from surplus tax collections and surplus lease rentals on any interest payment date; from funds from any source on any interest payment date on and after June 1, 1977. The County will covenant that surplus tax collections and surplus lease rentals, being the amount in excess of that necessary to insure the prompt payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds as the same become due, must be used from time to time on each interest payment date for the redemption of bonds prior to maturity.

No bid of less than par and accrued interest on the basis of an interest rate of 5 1/4 per cent annum will be entertained and no contingent provisions may be inserted in any bid. The award, if made, will be to the bidder whose bid results in the lowest net interest cost to the County, to be determined by computing the aggregate interest cost to the County from the date of the bonds to maturity and deducting therefrom any premium bid. The County reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

The bonds will be sold upon auction bids, the sale to be held at 2:30 o'clock p.m., on the 14 day of March, 1968, at the office of the County Judge of Hempstead County Courthouse, Hope, Arkansas. Each bidder will be required to deposit a certified or cashier's check in the amount of $4,200 on a bank that is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, payable to the County, to be retained as liquidated damages in the event the bidder is awarded the sale of the bonds but fails to complete the purchase. Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned. Interest will not be paid on good faith checks.

For further information address Stephens, Inc., Little Rock, Arkansas, the County's Fiscal Agent, or the undersigned. GIVEN this 13 day of February, 1968.

House Action Admits to Possibility

WASHINGTON (AP) — Politicians are doing some late-night figuring—much of it concerning the Republican-Democratic division of delegations in the House—on how to put a presidential election through that branch of Congress.

A House election would be necessary if no presidential candidate received a majority of electoral-college votes.

The extent of concern was pointed up in a little-noticed speech by House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford at a recent party luncheon.

It was a 15-minute lecture on the task of electing a president in the face of an all-out third-party threat by former Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama.

First problem: How do you get the necessary 270 electoral votes when 35 or maybe more of the total look unavailable?

Ford stayed away from naming states but other party sources listed Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina as areas where Wallace is at least a threat. Together they have 35 votes.

Besides, Wallace is on the ballot in California and is looking over numerous other states.

Ford treated the failure of either major party to gain an electoral majority as a real possibility. The burden of his talk was about what happens when the job of picking a president shifts to the House.

A presidential vote there is by states, so that Nevada with just one congressman, carries the same weight as California or New York with their platoon-size delegations. It takes 26 states to win.

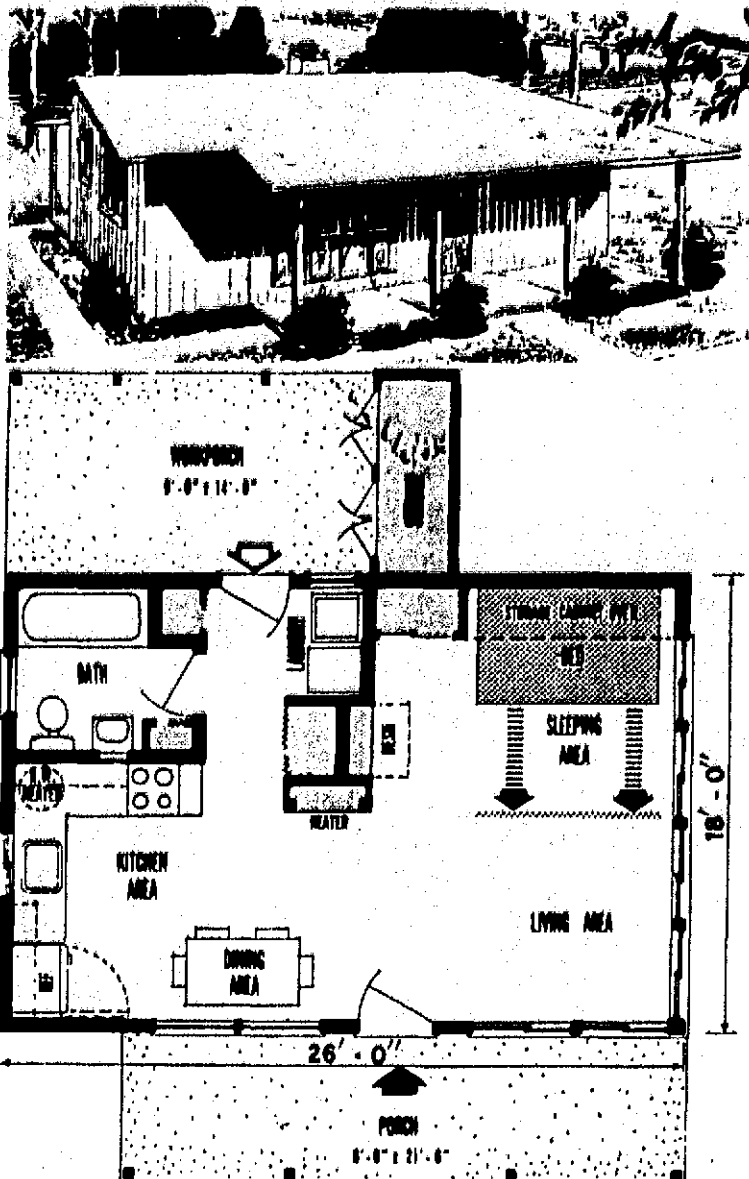

As things stand, Democrats would win hands down. They control 29 delegations to 8 for the Republicans.

But it's by no means that simple because congressional elections this fall could change that makeup. For example, three delegations—Illinois, Montana and Oregon—are evenly split. A one-vote shift either way would swing any one of them.

The Democrats are ahead by one in Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Tennessee and hold the single Nevada seat. Again a one-vote turnover would shift control.

But the Republicans have similar problems. They are ahead by one in Arizona and Indiana, and hold the single seats in Alaska, Delaware, Vermont and Wyoming.

States where the Democrats have a margin of two seats are Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Hawaii, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Rhode Island and Vir-

Agricultural Extension Service Plan No. 607301, available at your County Extension Office.

FARM COTTAGE

This small, frame cottage represents a practical minimum of both space and cost. It is inginea. The Republicans are two up in Idaho, Minnesota, New Hampshire, North Dakota, South Dakota and Utah.

The Republicans claim they see places to win 31 seats and take control of the House, but to win the White House as well presents a different problem. For instance, they wouldn't be far ahead for the presidency with pickups where they already lead.

A net of three new seats theoretically could give the GOP Illinois, Montana and Indiana. Another four could bring in Kentucky, Nevada, Pennsylvania and Tennessee. With the 18 they now hold, a two-vote pickup in one of 11 other states could give them 26 and command.

But the Democrats claim to see places for overturns their own way, which would scramble all such calculations.

And what if the party now in the minority by two in a delegation picks up just one and sets up a new intradelegation tie? It takes a majority to vote at all in a House presidential election.

Altogether it is a situation guaranteed to make battlegrounds out of some congressional districts that might not have been so hotly contested.

tended primarily for a young farm couple. Later, when the farm business is further developed, it can be used as a tenant house. This cottage plan will also meet the needs of many individuals planning to build small cottages for a second home on lake property in resort areas. The cottage is also adequate for retired couples who do not wish to maintain a large house.

Special space-saving features include an undercounter water heater, a pullout bed, a wall desk, a wall-type heater with a prefabricated metal or asbestos-cement chimney and accordion-type closet doors.

The large porches and generous window areas make the cottage particularly suitable for warm climates or a summer home. The living area contains 468 square feet of floor space and the porch and storage area contains 267 square feet.

Complete working drawings of this Plan No. 607301 can be obtained, free of charge, by contacting the Hempstead County Agricultural Extension Office.

GOLDEN TOUCH OF HOSPITALITY

BY JANE ASHLEY

A Sweet-Sour Sauce

Give an Oriental flavor to fish, pork, duck or chicken with a sweet and sour Imperial Sauce. The classic, clear look of the sauce comes from the corn starch used to thicken it.

Imperial Sauce

1 tablespoon corn starch
1/2 cup water
1 (8 3/4-ounce) can crushed pineapple
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 tablespoon wine vinegar
3 scallions, diagonally sliced
1 medium tomato, peeled and cut into thin wedges

Blend corn starch and water in 1-quart saucepan. Add pineapple, soy sauce and vinegar. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to boil and boils 1 minute. Add scallions and tomato. Cook 3 to 4 minutes. Serve over fish, pork or poultry. Makes about 2 cups.

Negro Editors Praise Civil Rights Report

NEW YORK (AP) — Editors in the Negro press generally praise the report of President Johnson's National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders but say it will serve little purpose unless it stimulates Congress and the nation to act.

"The comfortable people of America must be aroused and become concerned and demand that the Congress reflect their concern and their will," said the Amsterdam News, a weekly published in New York City.

The Michigan Chronicle, a weekly based in Detroit, declared: "The big problem is: Who cares enough? Does Congress care? Do those white people care who still think they can see the problem?"

"Do those black people care who labor under the illusion that separatism will automatically bring equality? If they don't care, the Kerner report might as well take its place on the shelf now—with all the others that have gone before."

Charles H. Loeb, managing editor of the Cleveland Call and Post, said in his editorial page column: "The commissioners' report is important only if it convinces the federal government that it alone—not the cities, counties or states—has sufficient power to order and finance the massive catching-up programs that are needed to emancipate Negroes."

"Not only are the local communities without the means to do it, but history is clear that a more important ingredient, the will to do it, is simply not there."

The Atlanta Daily World commented: "The commission has come up with a comprehensive program to meet the growing problems of the cities and it is our hope that responsible citizens will see that both industry and government are now aware of them and desire to do something to alleviate them."

SUPER SHOPPING, quite common in the Western World, has just caught on in the Soviet Union and Moscow shoppers appear to have accepted it warmly. Although these scenes seem to duplicate American supermarkets, closer inspection discloses goods are much more expensive; more shoddy in packing with far less selection than outside the U.S.S.R.

The Los Angeles Sentinel, a weekly, said: "It is extremely rare for whites to recognize and blame themselves for their failures. It is equally rare for such a commission to agree unanimously not to place blame on some scapegoat—a 'Communist conspiracy' or a 'Black militant conspiracy' or some other type of ominous-sounding conspiracy."

"But where do we go from here? ... We believe the total white community, inside and outside major cities, in small towns and villages, must rise up to the occasion and cure the tragic inequalities and inequities. It can be done and it must be done."

Pressure on for Change in Draft System

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Mounting American casualties in Vietnam and the prospect that more young men will be sent there are building pressures for changes in the draft system.

Anytime there are more youths of draft age than the military needs, the choice of who goes and who stays home is hard to make, and the present system appears to satisfy no one.

More than a year ago the Defense Department said the policy of drafting the oldest registrants first "was not desirable from any standpoint." Yet it continues.

The president of Harvard recently told Congress the new regulation wiping out deferments for graduate students was bad for the Army, the colleges and the nation.

President Johnson has asked that national standards be applied for draft classifications and Congress gave him authority to issue them. But the 4,089 local draft boards still set their own standards and they can vary from county to county.

There is blame enough for everyone in the government for the failure to draw up and implement a system as fair as can be devised, but for Congress the failure has been most abject. It had the chance last year to carry out a comprehensive revision of the law and threw the opportunity away.

A presidential commission had spent a year drafting recommendations and Johnson asked that most of them be enacted. But the House Armed Services Committee decreed that no great changes were needed and its view prevailed.

In an exhibition of legislation-by-default, the House rubber-stamped the committee's bill at a session begun late in the day and chopped off peremptorily so members could depart on a long Memorial Day weekend—some on a junkie to Paris.

The House had sat until 2 a.m. the night before working on a controversial school bill. The members were tired and crotchety when the draft bill came up and cries of "Vote! Vote!" were heard within an hour.

Sensing his colleagues' mood, Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., of the Armed Services Committee put through a debate-limiting motion. It left members with less than a minute to explain major amendments intended to carry out some of the commission's recommendations. All were shouted down.

"We're asking young men to give up two years of their lives," said one unhappy member, "and we won't even give two days of our time to consider this."

The bill resulting from that session will be the law of the land until June 30, 1971, unless the House or Senate Armed Services committees can be persuaded to reopen the matter.

Such persuasion is now being attempted, particularly in the Senate, where Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., recently offered a complete overhaul of the law, trying again to put in many of the provisions recommended by last year's commission. Johnson could institute many of the recommended changes by executive order but he has chosen not to do so. Supporters of the change hope the need for expanded draft calls to meet Vietnam requirements will prompt the President to act.

Coppers Urged to End Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson reportedly has urged union leaders to put aside at least temporarily their demands for companywide bargaining, a major roadblock to settlement of the nation's copper strike.

A copper industry source reported Monday, following Johnson's initiation of round-the-clock Washington talks between representatives of 26 unions and four major producers, that the President pressed negotiators to concentrate first on economic issues.

Johnson, the source said, "suggested if bargaining was successful on economic issues the other issues might fall into place."

Johnson said the strike has cost copper workers $250 million in wages and the companies $123 million in after-tax profits.

The four major producers involved in the 235-day-old strike — Kennecott, Anaconda, Phelps Dodge and American Smelting and Refining—have declined even to discuss the company-wide bargaining issue.

The unions representing some 50,000 striking workers want to make each company deal simultaneously with all unions representing its workers at all its facilities, with a common expiration date for all union contracts.

Anaconda filed unfair labor practice charges meanwhile against the United Steelworkers and a large group of other Montana unions over the company-wide bargaining issue.

The complaint was filed Monday with the National Labor Relations Board in Seattle, Wash. The NLRB last week obtained a U.S. federal court restraining order in Denver against the unions after a similar complaint by Kennecott.

Anaconda contends only wages, hours and working conditions are mandatory bargaining points under federal law. It says the unions refused to bargain on other points until its companywide contract demands were met.

A steelworkers' spokesman said, following the President's call for night-and-day talks, that his union would enter such discussions without preconditions—a stance believed influenced by the NLRB's action on the Kennecott complaints.

Wages along with pensions and other fringe benefits are key issues in the long strike.

The unions are asking a three-year increase of about $1 an hour over-all. Wages now run from $2.66 to $3.67 an hour for various jobs.

Johnson told the union and company representatives the strike is weakening the U.S. dollar in foreign trade, threatening American prosperity and leading toward a pinch in vital supplies for Vietnam.

Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford told the negotiators of war-related copper needs.

Chrysler in Apology to Negro Singer

NEW YORK (AP) — Harry Belafonte says he received an apology from a Chrysler Corp. executive who objected to a scene in a forthcoming television special.

Belafonte, a Negro, said Wednesday that Doyle Lott, advertising manager of Chrysler's Plymouth Division, objected to a scene in which singer Petula Clark touched him on the arm. Miss Clark is white.

Lott replied: "I was tired. I over-reacted to the staging, not to any feeling of discrimination." He said he phoned Belafonte later and "told him I thought his performance in the show was excellent and thanked him."

Belafonte said Wednesday night that Lott telephoned him Monday to apologize and implied someone else had complained about the incident.

Belafonte said he told Lott, "It was you who did it. Your apology comes 100 years too late."

Plymouth issued a statement saying it was "very happy" with the show and that, if any incident occurred, "it resulted solely from the reaction of a single individual and in no way reflects the Plymouth Division's attitude or policy on such matters."

29 Bodies Recovered From Plane

By JOSE D. ABREU
Associated Press Writer
POINTE-A-PITRE, Guadeloupe (AP) — The charred bodies of 29 victims have been recovered from the wreckage of the Air France Boeing 707 jet that smashed into a forested mountainside on the Guadeloupe island of Basse-Terre Tuesday night.

All 63 persons aboard — 14 crewmen and 49 passengers — were killed in the crash and explosion that followed. The dead include Marion Zeckendorf, wife of New York real estate millionaire William Zeckendorf, and Joseph Rosenbluth, 44, of Melrose Park, Pa., a partner in a travel agency.

The wreckage was scattered over an area 200 yards wide near the top of the 3,937-foot volcanic mountain.

One official said the $8-million jetliner plunged into the mountainside with such intensity that the front part was buried in the ground. He said the bodies of those who sat in the front of the plane may never be found.

The wreckage burned fiercely for four hours after the crash, keeping search teams at bay until early Wednesday. The teams had to fight their way through heavy brush on the 45-degree slope to reach the wreckage.

"We just cannot figure out what happened," said an Air France official. "The pilot knew this place perfectly well."

The plane was coming in for a landing at Pointe-A-Pitre's Raizet airport, and the pilot's last words to the control tower gave no hint of danger. He said he would be at Raizet in a minute and a half. Then the plane disappeared from the airport radar screen.

The weather was fair, with no visibility problems, the airline official said. A 1962 aircraft on another Guadeloupe mountain in which 113 persons were killed was caused by bad weather.

Two investigating teams arrived from Paris, one from Air France and the other from the French Civil Aeronautics Board.

Court Ruling on Ballot

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court is expected to decide Friday whether two Little Rock School Board contests should appear on next Tuesday's school election ballot.

The high court heard oral arguments on the suit Wednesday and took the case under advisement. Typed legal briefs were asked to be turned in today.

Final Prison Report Soon

STAR CITY, Ark. (AP) — The Lincoln County Grand Jury is expected to make its final report on its investigation of Cummins Prison Farm and the exhumation of three skeletons there Jan. 29.

The jury had been scheduled to reconvene March 18 to hear a State Police report on the unearthing of three graves, but Foreman Carl Knight of Gould said Wednesday that the jury had found it has all the information it needs to make its report.
